TAKES SHOT AT HIS PLAYMATE

Boone Thorpe, Jr., 18 Years Old
Playfully Aims Gun at Daily
Goodwin and Fires.

HE NARROWLY ESCAPES DEATH

Bullet Entered Palm of Left Hand
And Came Out Through Finger, Lacerating Bone.

That small boys and revolvers do not work well double was demonstrated this afternoon, when a boy, eighteen years old, who is commonly known as Boone Thorpe, Jr., playfully shot at Daily Goodwin, fifteen years of age and painfully injured him. The bullet penetrated his left hand through the palm and came out through the middle finger, severely lacerating the bone. It is probable that the boy will not suffer any serious complications from the injury.

A crowd of boys were playing around the iron bridge between the race and river bridge on the road to East Hill cemetery when the accident happened. They were all examining the gun in the possession of the older lad, who was displaying it in the spirit of the bravado.

It seems that young Thorpe wished to show his ability to hit a mark and he deliberately took a shot at Goodwin with disastrous results. It seems nothing less than miraculous that Young Goodwin escaped with his life as the boy was almost directly in the line where the revolver was aimed. He said that he jumped as the shot was fired and probably avoided being more seriously injured.

The injured boy, assisted by his companions and with blood streaming from his hand, ran all the way to Dr. J. G. Lewis' office where the wound was dressed. It is said that Young Thorpe has been known to carry a revolver before as he has on numerous occasions showed it to his youthful companions.

BURGLARS ENTER; MAKE SMALL HAUL

Robbery, Which Appears to be Clever
Work, Carried Out at the Home of Jasper Dudgeon.

TOOK PLACE BETWEEN 8 AND 9

A robbery occurred at the home of Jasper Dudgeon in East Seventh street between eight and nine o'clock last night. Miss Mary Cruse, who is housekeeper for Allen Daniels, the barber, thought she heard some one attempting to enter their home, about eight o'clock. Mrs. Ben Goodwin saw two suspicious characters lurking in the neighborhood all evening, one of which acted as if he were crazy. About nine-thirty the Dudgeons discovered that they had been robbed of a gold band ring, a purse containing two dollars and some change, and a two bladed knife. City Marshal Harlow was called, and in company of Ben Goodwin and Wm. Offutt they thoroughly searched the neighborhood but to no avail. The supposition is that the two characters were allies, one acting as if he were crazy, while the other committed the robbery. The police are making a thorough investigation.

TWO LOCAL GRADUATES

Received Diplomas From Indiana
University at Bloomington Today.

Indiana University will this year grant 362 degrees to students who have completed the work required of them. There will be 222 degrees of bachelor of arts. Fifty-nine students will be enabled to hang out their shingles as doctors of medicine and thirty-seven as bachelors of law. Forty-four will be certified as master of arts. The degrees were issued, except in a few cases, by President William today. Gladstone Barrett and Miss Anna Megee are the only graduates from this city.

Twenty-five young men and women will leave the institution this week, and as a memento of the days spent in the Home the State G. A. R. will present each graduate with a gold medal bearing the name of the home and also the name of the graduate.

A. P. Asbury, department commander of the Indiana G. A. R., will attend the commencement exercises, and will probably address the graduating class.

WAS THE LONGEST DAY IN THE YEAR

Yesterday Summer Really Began and Warm Weather is Not Out of Order.

EVENINGS WILL GET "LONGER"

Yesterday, June 21, was the longest day of the year, and today is the first day of summer. Of course, the impression has prevailed around here that summer had arrived in earnest several days ago, but this is not true. Today is the real beginning of summer, so look out for some real hot weather. While yesterday was the longest day of the year, according to the calendar makers, that does not mean that there are any more hours in the day, or that the clock will "tick" any more times, but that the sun remains up longer than any other day in the year. There will not be any noticeable change in the length of the days for two or three weeks, but after that time the evenings will begin to get "longer" and that will mean that summer "clearance" sales will be in order. And their will follow the family reunions, county fairs, Thanksgiving day, etc., and soon it will be walking knee deep in snow. Such are the cycles of the seasons.

THE WEATHER

Generally fair tonight and Thursday.

CITY COUNCIL HOLDS SESSION

Ordinance Regards to Shooting Fireworks Except on July 4th and Legal Holidays Enforced.

ALL MEMBERS WERE PRESENT

Expert Mechanical Engineer to be Secured to Investigate City
Water and Light Plant.

Small tads can beware of an ordinance, which the city council, ordered to be enforced while in regular bi-monthly session last night. There is an ordinance on the city statutes, which forbids the firing of fireworks, except on July 4th and other legal holidays. The enforcement of this is the result of some recent disturbance occasioned by the exploding of fireworks in the city limits at all times and at all hours.

The services of an expert mechanical engineer will be secured to investigate the city light and water plant externally and internally, as regards to it needs and its advantages. This is a previous act before considering the advantage of installing of two new boilers in the plant.

Several residents of the city have been making sewer connections, and water connections, in the same trench. This has a tendency to break the water pipes and there is a city ordinance against such practice. This ordinance will be enforced.

The privilege of Oneal Bros. using water from the city mains to maintain their street sprinkler was devolved on account of numerous complaints made, and because of the fear of scarcity of water through the summer months. The main complaint against the using of water from the city plugs was that it had a proclivity to turn the water yellow, due to continuous movement of the sediment.

It was voted to borrow $200 to meet current expenses. This is necessitated by the county treasurer who collects the city taxes, refusing to make settlement with the city except semi-annually. All the members of the council were present. Adjournment was taken at 10:30.

ALUMNI CONSIDER AN ORGANIZATION

Graduates of Local High School are Planning to Perfect an Association.

TO HOLD MEETING ON JULY 12

The organization of an alumni association of the local high school has long been considered here, but no definite steps have ever been taken in that direction. The matter is now beginning to take on definite proportions and it is probable that permanent organization will be effected. It is planned to hold a meeting of all of the old alumni on the evening of July 12, when it is thought that an organization can be perfected. The alumni association of the local high school has been very noticeable by its absence. Smaller towns over the county have successful associations and there is no reason why Rushville should not have the same.

As far as known, no one ever died of seasickness, although frequently this cause is ascribed in reports of the death of travelers.

ENEMIES MEET BY MERE CHANCE

Pete Hill and Roy Dolan, Each Seeking Justice From Other's Wrongs Come Together.

IN JUSTICE OF PEACE COURT

Two Men, Who Had an Encounter,
Plead Guilty to Other's Charges
And Pay Fine.

Roy Dolan and Pete Hill, both of near Glenwood and both seeking justice for what he considered the other's wrongs, met in Justice William Frank's court in Connersville Monday evening. They had an encounter in Falmouth in which it said that one was worsted, but, as is always the case, each one blamed the other. By mere chance they met in the court, each one after justice on the other's wrongs.

Hill swore out an affidavit against Dolan, charging him with assault and battery. The later pleaded guilty to the charge and paid his fine which amounted with the costs to $13.50. After paying his fine Dolan swore out an affidavit, charging that Hill provoked him to the deed. To this Hill pleaded guilty and paid his fine, amounting with the costs to $9.50. All was well with the two men who had been "at sword's points" a few days previous.

It is understood that the encounter which was the cause of the subsequent pleadings of guilty and paying of fines, took place in Falmouth Monday morning. It all came about from what was intended for a practical joke, but one of the parties could not see the joke. It is said that Dolan hid an oil can which Hill had brought to Falmouth. Hill was angered by what he thought was not a joke and proceeded to look for Dolan. He found the oil can first, but he also found Dolan.

It is said that a fight ensued in which several blows were struck and in which it is authentically reported that several black eyes were the result. Bystanders say that Dolan started the encounter by hitting Hill with a rock. The two principals in the affair have not been friends for fifteen years, so it is said.

It will be remembered that the home of Pete Hill was the place where lightning played havoc over a week ago. The electricity created much disturbance in the Hill home, but fortunately damage to any great extent was not done.

IT'S A STAGGERING BLOW

Railroads Will Observe Law on Carrying "Jagged" Passengers.

State Health Commissioner Hurty has obtained an agreement with interurban and steam railroads whereby the latter companies will observe the old law which prohibits carrying passengers who have a "jag on." This is to prevent dry county citizens from visiting wet cities and returning home with excessive cargoes of liquor under their belts. Drunken persons come under the classification of nuisances.

SOCIAL NOTES.

The Kings Daughter's Circle gave a picnic supper in Link's grove last evening, honoring Misses Mary Logan and Emma Minger, who are in the India missionary field. The other guests were Misses Marybelle Jamieson, Nora Sleeth and Messrs. Wash Allen, Henry Banner and W. H. Cherry.

TEACHER'S NATIONAL ASS'N

Will Convene at Boston on July Fourth to Eighth.

The Teacher's National Association will meet in Boston on July fourth to eighth. This is the largest association of this nature held in the United States. The program is made up of the foremost educators in the country. ## REST ROOM AND LIBRARY A SUCCESS

One Hundred and Thirty-two Cards
Have Been Taken Out by Residents of the County.

LIFE OF IT IS VERY UNCERTAIN

The D. A. R. library and rest room is proving itself a success by the number of cards, and books that have been taken out, and by the number of people, who have utilized the comfort of the rest room. In the first week of its existence 132 membership cards were taken out, 220 books were withdrawn by the members and 175 people found the rest room useful and advantageous.

The movement is worthy of the support of all the citizens of the county. The success and life of the project depends solely upon the interest manifested and shown in maintaining the library and rest room. Donation of books or money will be gladly accepted at any time by the promoters and ideas concerning the prolongation of its life will be thoroughly analyzed and investigated.

JUNE, MONTH OF BRIDES HAS RECORD

Fourteen License Have Already Been Granted This Month, While Only Nine Granted Last Year.

FIVE GO ON THE FIRST DAY

June is really the month of brides, it has always been considered, and, that it is upholding its record in great style this year, is proven by the marriage records in the county clerk's office. Marriages have been frequent, this month and more licenses have been granted so far that during any other month in the year. Up to today fourteen couples have been licensed to wed. But with such a beginning, five on the first day, much could be expected of the month of brides. During June of last year only nine legal slips to become man and wife were issued to young couples. During the two preceding months only twelve licenses were granted.

BIDS UNDER CONSIDERATION.

There were nine bids opened for the new Rushville National Bank building, by the board of directors this afternoon, Morris M. Winship and Edward Walker were the lowest bidders. Their bids were $11,750 and $11,421.80 respectively. There were other considerations that entered into the letting of the contract, and it has not been decided which of the two local contractors will be successful.

TO THROW GOODS FROM STORE TOP

Over $200 Worth of Merchandise
Will be Given Away on Next
"Big Wednesday," June 29.

OTHER ATTRACTIVE FEATURES

Indianapolis News Boy's Band Will Give Continuous Concert All Day—Free Matinee Shows.

The Indianapolis News Boy's band, the Rushville city band, free matinee shows at all of the amusement houses, over two hundred dollars worth of merchandise literally given away and a big bargain at each and every store in the city are some of the features of the next "Big Wednesday," which will be held June 29, one week from today. It is expected that it will surpass all previous efforts on the part of the press committee and other members of the Retail Merchant's Association, who have worked untirely to make the big day a success.

The new feature of the day, the giving away of over two hundred dollars worth of goods by the local merchants, it is expected to be the most attractive feature of the day. And the unique manner in which they will give them away is the big feature of the occasion. Each merchant is represented on the big bill telling of the bargains to be offered, will toss from the top of his building some article from his store which has a real purchase value. They will be thrown from the top of the building and it will be left to the crowd below as to which shall be the owner of the article.

The Indianapolis New Boy's band is considered to be one of the most attractive entertainments which the merchants could get for that day. They will come down in the early morning on a special car on the I. & C. and will give a continuous concert on the court house lawn all day. The Indianapolis band has gained a reputation as being probably the best musical organization in the State and it is not often that local people have an opportunity to hear them. The band is one of the largest in the State, having fifty members, and will no doubt bring a large crowd to Rushville on the big day.

All of the above mentioned things will be had aside from the regular program which has been carried out on the other "Big Wednesday." The same big bargains will be offered by the merchants on that day as a special inducement for patrons to buy on that day. With each purchase, as has been the custom, a ticket will be given entitling the bearer to free admittance to any matinee performance of any of the five-cent theaters. The Rushville band will give a concert on the court house square in the evening.

Over seventy business men have signed their names to the agreement to hold six more "Big Wednesdays" after the next one, which means that the feature will be a permanent one during the summer months. They will be held every two weeks. A few business men have held off from signing the agreement, but it is expected that the large majority of the merchants will be a part of the plan to draw trade to Rushville.

MRS. LEWARK'S WILL.

The will of Mary Lewark was filed for probate today. The estate is valued at about $2500, and the husband William T. Lewark, is given it all during his life. At his death the son and the daughter, Arlie Lewark, and Myrtle Abernathy, are to have it all, share and share alike. The son is named as executor of the instrument, which is very brief.

EASY TO CURE

Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat and Catarrh.

Breathe Hyomei. It will cure catarrh or any nose or throat trouble if you follow directions. Don't lay it aside when the snuffing, hawking and spitting have ceased. Stick to it daily until you are sure that the catarrh germ is dead, and that your air passages are free from their poisonous influence. Hyomei (pronounced High-o-me) is the only treatment for nose, throat and lung troubles that has ever been sold with the understanding that if it did not cure, it was to cost absolutely nothing.

Hyomei can be obtained at druggists everywhere and at F. B. Johnson & Co. who guarantee it to cure catarrh, croup, sore throat, coughs and colds. A complete outfit $1.00, which is mighty cheap for a remedy that has cured more cases of catarrh than all the catarrh specialists on earth.

An outfit consists of an inhaler, a bottle of Hyomei, a supply of antiseptic gauze, a medicine dropper, and full instructions for use. The inhaler is made pocket size, of hard rubber, and will last a lifetime. And bear in mind that extra bottles of Hyomei, if needed, cost only 50 cents.

NO MORE GRAY HAIR

It is easier to preserve the color of the hair than to restore it, although it is possible to do both. Our grandmothers understood the secret. They made and used a "sage tea," and their dark, glossy hair long after middle life was due to this fact. Our mothers have gray hairs before they are fifty, but they are beginning to appreciate the wisdom of our grandmothers in using "sage tea" for their hair, and are fast following suit. The present generation has the advantage of the past in that it can get a ready to use preparation called Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur. As a scalp tonic and color restorer, this preparation is vastly superior to the ordinary "sage tea" made by our grandmothers, and it can be bought for 50 cents and $1 a bottle at almost any first-class drug store, or will be sent direct by the Wyeth Chemical Company, 74 Cortlandt St., New York City, upon receipt of price.

For sale and recommended by Hargrove & Mullin.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart and kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once and see! Sold by Frank E. Wolcott.

WANT ADS BRING RESULTS

MARSHALL PLAN WAS VOTED DOWN

Ohio Democrats Reject Senatorial Proposition.

COMMITTEE SITS DOWN ON IT

The Proposition to Name a Candidate For the United States Senate in Today's Convention Did Not Stand a Ghost of a Show in View of Governor Harmon's Expressed Views Against Expediency of Such Action.

Dayton, O., June 22.—The Democratic state committee is made up of twenty-one members, one for each congressional district in the state. The Bryan-Tom Johnson contingent on the committee determined to force the fight to compel today's state convention to name a candidate for United States senator. This was in line with W. J. Bryan's open letter of May 25 to Governor Harmon after the Nebraskaan had rebuffed up with former Mayor Tom Johnson of Cleveland. Mayor Johnson was not well enough to come here. He sent word that he was busy attending to his liver. A number of Mr. Johnson's friends think that he has fought his last political fight. He was represented on the committee by Newton D. Baker, city solicitor of Cleveland, probably the ablest of Johnson's lieutenants and the possible successor of Johnson as leader of Cuyahoga county. The committee met at the Phillips House and Mr. Baker, as Johnson's proxy, introduced a resolution amending the call of the convention incorporating the provision that the convention indorse a candidate for senator.

The Bryan-Johnson plan for senatorial indorsement was defeated by a vote of 14 to 6, with one member absent, James Ross of Columbus. The absent member has expressed himself favorably to the Harmon attitude and hence the absent member's vote can be counted among the nays, making the vote 15 to 6.

Governor Harmon, after extended conferences with delegates from nearly all the counties, expressed the opinion that the liquor question, which has vexed Ohio statesmen, Republicans and Democrats for more than a lifetime, should have no place in the platform to be adopted by the convention. Atlee Pomeroy of Canton, temporary chairman of the convention, who may be the candidate for United States senator at Columbus next winter, did not in his speech to the convention mention the liquor question. Governor Harmon's friends insist that the township law and the Rose county local option law passed during his administration have effectually taken the liquor question out of Ohio state politics, and in this opinion most of the leading Republicans concur.

Governor Harmon, who was renominated by acclamation, in his speech of acceptance, spoke of state issues, alluded to alleged national extravagance on the part of the Republicans and attacked the Payne-Aldrich tariff law. Governor Harmon spoke but a few moments.

Chairman Pomeroy's speech, although the weather was hotter than Tophet, was vigorously applauded by the 3,132 delegates and alternates, and the vast audience. All told the speech would fill a page of a newspaper. Its exceeding length was due, it was stated by Governor Harmon's friends, to the country-wide interest in the campaign in the president's state. Furthermore, it was a speech calculated in some features to drag out the Brand Whitlocks, the Bryanites, the Tom Johnsons and the anti-Taft tariff Republicans of the state.

PENNSYLVANIANS REVOLT

Independent Republicans Serve Formal Notice on Boise Penrose.

Harrisburg, Pa., June 22.—Coming as a dramatic finale to a remarkable public meeting last night, notice was served upon Senator Penrose that the nomination of John K. Tener as governor will be met with the placing in the field of an independent ticket with D. Clarence Gibbonney of Philadelphia as its head. Upon the eve of the holding of the Republican convention a meeting was held last night in the majestic theater under the auspices of the Good Citizenship League of this city, and the decision to place an independent ticket in the field was the result of the enthusiasm with which the report of the secretary of the Law and Order Society of this city was received.

RENO REJOICES

Nevada Is Going to Get Big Fight, After All.

Reno, Nev., June 22.—The selection of Reno as the battleground for the big fight has created great excitement here. The governor says he will not interfere, so the battle is assured. The site of the battle will be one and a half miles from the heart of the town. It adjoins the Southern Pacific tracks and is close to the trolley line from Reno to Sparks.

Work on an open-air arena on the same plans as the one started in San Francisco has been begun. It will be finished by July 1.

THE LORIMER CASE IN HANDS OF SEVEN

Senators Named to Inquire Into Charges.

Washington, June 22.—Senator Burrows, chairman of the committee on privileges and elections, has announced the names of the sub-committee of the senate committee on privileges and elections that will conduct the investigation into the charges of bribery made against the election of William Lorimer as senator from Illinois. The sub-committee is composed of four Republicans—Burrows of Michigan, Dillingham of Vermont, Gamble of South Dakota and Heyburn of Idaho—and three Democrats—Frazier of Tennessee, Paynter of Kentucky and Johnston of Alabama.

Senator Burrows was made a member of the committee and chairman on the motion of Senator Bailey of Texas. Senator Bailey, who is the leader of the minority on the committee, asked to be relieved from service on the sub-committee because of engagements that will occupy his time during the summer vacation.

Senator Burrows has gone to Michigan to remain until the last of the primaries are held, before which he is a candidate for re-election. As soon as the primaries are over it is the intention of Senator Burrows to call the sub-committee together and take up the investigation of the charges. The inquirers will go to Illinois and take evidence and may hold some of their meetings in Washington.

Didn't Live to Enjoy It.

Omaha, June 22.—William Krug, millionaire brewer and head of the Krug Brewery company of Omaha, bought an auto and was dead within ten seconds after, as the result of a collision with another car. He was being shown the car by an agent. While driving slowly he leaned forward and said: "You need not go any further, this car is all right." Before he could settle back in his seat the car was run into from the side by another auto. Krug was thrown to the ground, his skull crushed. He died instantly.

THE PRESIDENT SAVES MEASURE

How Senate Insurrection Was Put Down.

TAFT'S FIGHTING BLOOD UP

Word That the Postal Savings Bank Bill Was Going to Be Doctored While the President Was Absent at Yale Today Bestirred the Chief Executive, Who at Once Got Into Most Effective Touch With the Situation.

Washington, June 22.—The president heard yesterday that there was a plan on foot in the senate to doctor the postal savings bank bill while he was at New Haven today watching his elder son, Robert, get his Yale diploma. The president was greatly disturbed over the reports, and by the time several senators had got to the White House in response to hurry calls his fighting blood was up in good shape. He told these senators that he had called off his trip to New Haven; that he would insist on the party support in the savings bank pledge being enacted; and that they could take word back to the senate that he was prepared to stay in Washington all summer and even till next December if necessary to see this legislation through.

The president's determined attitude brought results. The filibuster threatened by the insurgents was called off and they contented themselves with introducing several amendments, all of which were voted down. The backbone of the opposition gave way altogether late in the day, when the senate agreed to vote on the bill today. The bill will undoubtedly be passed.

Mr. Taft's control of the situation is all the more notable in view of the terms of the bill which the senate will accept. The bill is the one that passed the house, and many senators in voting for it will be accepting propositions that are directly at variance with the provisions contained in the bill passed by the senate. In other words, many senators will be recorded as having voted early in the session for certain things and later in the session as against practically the same propositions. The insurgents in forcing votes on several amendments showed that it was the intention to emphasize this fact.

Republican leaders say that the present session may be prolonged by the inability of the senate and house conference to reach an agreement on a provision of the sundry civil bill exempting labor organizations from the operation of the Sherman anti-trust law. If the bill should be sent to the president with this provision in it he would veto the measure. A motion was made by Representative Hughes of New Jersey that the conferees be instructed to insist upon an amendment exempting labor unions from the operation of the anti-trust law. This motion prevailed, 152 to 105, much to the surprise of many of the leaders.

The Taft administration scored on another of its measure last night when the house passed the bill providing for an issue of $20,000,000 certificates of indebtedness to be used in completing reclamation projects already started, but held up because of a lack of funds.

COMPROMISED IT

Neither Faction of Minnesota Republicans Had Its Own Way.

St. Paul, Minn., June 22.—The insurgents and the standpatters scored a dog fall in the Republican state convention here. The standpatters proposed to indorse Taft, touch lightly on the Payne tariff law and whoop it up for the tariff commission and the railroad bill, confining the rest of the platform to state topics. The insurgents demanded a plank repudiating the Payne law as a repudiation of pledges of the Republican national platform; also a plank expressing unalterable adherence to all of the policies promulgated by Theodore Roosevelt, and wildly praising Mr. Taft for his "patriotic efforts to advance legislation for the whole people," but refraining from indorsing any of his direct administrative acts. Contests over state officers were so pronounced as to force a spirit of compromise, and the platform finally adopted after a fight on the convention floor is a compromise over which neither faction is enthusiastic. The platform indorses Taft's "patriotic efforts to secure legislation for the benefit of the whole people"; ignores reference to the Payne tariff law; applauds the Roosevelt conservation policies and commends the railroad bill.

Beverly Awaits the Tafts.

Tomorrow morning, in company with Robert, Helen and Charlie, Mrs. Taft will leave New Haven for Beverly.

HEED THE WARNING

Many Rushville People Have Done So.

When the kidneys are sick they give unmistakable warning that should not be ignored. By examining the urine and treating the kidneys upon the first sign or disorder, many days of suffering may be saved. Sick kidneys expel a dark, ill-smelling urine, full of "brickdust" sediment and painful in passage. Sluggish kidneys cause a dull pain in the small of the back, headaches, dizzy spells, tired, languid feelings and frequently rheumatic twinges.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only; they cure sick kidneys, and rid the blood of uric poison. If you suffer from any of the above symptoms you can use no better remedy.

Rushville people recommend Doan's Kidney Pills.

O. P. Wellman, 123 West Third street, Rushville, Ind., my kidneys and my back was so lame that I could not lift. When I read that Doan's Kidney Pills were a specific for headache and other symptoms of kidney trouble, I got a box at F. B. Johnson & Co.'s Drug Store. The first few doses relieved me and it was not long before the pain in my back had entirely disappeared. I can strongly recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to all kidney sufferers.

The patrons in the districts of the Freemans and Neff's Corner school are wondering why the contracts for the new school buildings have not been let. By information it would seem that nothing can be done until Dr. Hurty gives complete plans and specifications of how the new buildings are to be built. Is it possible that the law is so strict that some State health officer must be called on to say how our school houses shall be built and how much air to the square inch shall be breathed and great difference in the looks of the what kind of water we shall drink and whether we shall use coal, wood or steam heat? If this is true, then the taxpayers must let them say how much taxes we shall pay. Now honest, 'aint it true of an old saying that the American people do like to be humbugged. We could point to some of those officers where our forefathers went to school on a dirt floor and most of them went barefooted on a board snow shoe. Nothing was said of what kind of air they should breathe nor what kind of water they should drink, yet most of them lived to be from seventy-five to ninety years of age. Now they die at about half that age with all the health cautions one could wish for even to automobiles and air ships to get the fresh air in.

"Time's Flight Turned Backward" SAGE AND SULPHUR Made Her look Twenty Years Younger

READ MRS. HERRICK'S SWORN STATEMENT

STATE OF NEW YORK ss. Rochester, N. Y.
Nancy A. Herrick, being duly sworn, deposes and says: When I was a school girl I had a head of heavy, long, dark brown hair, that was so plentiful, rich and glossy, that it was the envy of many of my young schoolmates, and attracted the attention and remarks of strangers. After I was married and as I grew older, my hair commenced to come out just a little at first, but gradually as time passed it came out more and more, and began to turn gray. I was induced by many good reports heard of Sage and Sulphur, to try a bottle. My hair was quite gray and thin on top when I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and you may imagine my satisfaction when I found that it was fast coming back to its natural condition, becoming thicker, darker, smoother and glossier than it had been for a long time. I continued the use of Sage and Sulphur and my hair is now in a splendid condition, as heavy and as dark and smooth as when I was a girl of sixteen. From my experience I believe it is one's own fault if they lose their hair, or let it get gray or harsh. It is now four years since I commenced using Sage and Sulphur, and still use it, and my hair still keeps thick, dark, smooth and glossy.

Sworn to before me this 14th day of July, 1902

THE SQUIRREL SEASON.

The squirrel season opens July 1. By this is meant that if all the necessary requirements are complied with the squirrel may be pursued and killed with impunity, so if you are a good rifle shot (it's an unpardonable sin to shoot a squirrel with a shot gun); if you possess or can obtain the use of a good squirrel dog; if you have an up-to-date hunting license; if you also have the written permission of all land owners upon whose lands you have reason to suspect the elusive "bushy tail" is playing hide and seek with his fellows; if you are thoroughly posted as to State game preserves—upon which you are forbidden to hunt even if provided with all the other above enumerated essentials—if you are all and have all of these things, together with an unsatisfied longing for a bite of the toothsome rodent, take this bit of advice: buy a spring chicken for your first supper—or dinner, if you're quite stylish. Even if it costs a dollar you'll save money by substituting the barnyard pheasant for the squirrel, and you will also be able to go about your usual business the day following.

Woman Is Now Man's Intellectual Equal.

By HENRY ARTHUR JONES, English Dramatist.

WOMAN, like all other animals, CONSTANTLY CHANGES IN RESPONSE TO ENVIRONMENT. A certain environment always and rapidly produces types exactly fitted to it. Every great change in an environment will instantly begin to work a corresponding change in each species and will end by PRODUCING A NEW TYPE.

It is a commonplace to say that our new civilization, that wholly new civilization inaugurated only a generation or two ago by railways and electricity, is FAST PRODUCING A DIFFERENT TYPE OF MAN AND WOMAN FROM ANYTHING THE WORLD HAS EVER KNOWN.

IF WE ASK IN WHAT CHIEF PARTICULAR THE ATTITUDE OF WOMAN TOWARD MAN IS CHANGING, I THINK THE REPLY WOULD BE THAT SHE IS BECOMING MORE AND MORE THE INTELLECTUAL COMRADE OF MAN.

In the theater women are necessarily our companions and comrades. In journalism they are less so, but in journalism and in other intellectual professions women are every day more and more showing themselves our SUCCESSFUL COMPETITORS AND STANCH AND WELCOME COMRADES. And in other professions the same development can easily be seen.

China Has Caught the Spirit of America and Is Forging Ahead.

By CHANG YIN TANG, New Chinese Minister to the United States.

CHINA HAS CAUGHT THE SPIRIT OF AMERICA, AND TODAY WE ARE FORGING AHEAD IN EVERY LINE OF ENDEAVOR.

We are not able to complete the transformation at once, but we are making splendid progress. We have ADOPTED MANY OF THE GOOD THINGS YOU HAVE IN THIS COUNTRY, and today we are building, I dare say, as many miles of railroad as any other country. IT IS DESTINY THAT THE TRADE BETWEEN THE UNITED STATES AND CHINA SHALL BE OF SUCH HUGE PROPORTIONS as to bring about the best of feelings between the two nations. I feel sure that America will begin to FEEL THE RESULT OF THE AWAKENING OF OUR COUNTRY AT ONCE.

I have been particularly struck since I have come to America with the great size of the country, and yet I must say that China has equally fertile fields and an OPPORTUNITY FOR DEVELOPMENT that will not only make our nation much richer and our people happier, but will SURPRISE THE WORLD.

The method of travel you Americans have is magnificent. Why, it is like living in a hotel. I know now why American railroad material and equipment are being used to such an extent in China.

Business Needs a "Rest Cure."

By JAMES J. HILL, Railroad Builder.

THE people, not capital, make the country advance, but capital must be employed to keep the people at some occupation. WHEN WORKERS CURTAIL THE PROFIT OF CAPITAL, THEN THE COUNTRY WILL FACE A SERIOUS CONDITION. I do not say this will happen, but I do say that we must work to WARD OFF even the probability of facing a situation of this kind. The way to do this is to KEEP THE PEOPLE EMPLOYED.

WHAT THE UNITED STATES NEEDS MOST OF ALL JUST NOW IS TO GIVE BUSINESS A "REST CURE." LET UP ON THIS AGITATION AND DO MORE WORK AND LESS TALKING IN TRYING TO SOLVE THE GREAT ECONOMIC QUESTIONS.

Last Monday June 20th was the occasion of a very pleasant gathering at the home of John VanCleve of Arlington, it being his 82 birthday anniversary. The day was pleasantly spent. #### In Defense of Tobacco

You may think every man who smokes wants to quit, and can't. The general opinion seems to be that using tobacco is a bad habit; not very bad, but so bad that men wouldn't learn it if they were beginning over, and had their present knowledge of the week, says the Atchinson Globe. But there is always opposition, and not all men want to quit. And not wanting to quit, it is for them to make a defense; there are always arguments for the defense. Here is one offered by a correspondent to the Chicago Tribune: "You may say that the world did without smoke for a mighty long time, why not now? But you must admit that since tobacco was introduced to the world it has witnessed the greatest things done by brain power. Tobacco did it. Why, every conceivable invention is either perfected now or so near it that the inventive fiend is nearly used up and inventors are leaving the field and retiring. The brains responsible for our present civilization are found mostly in the tobacco era. Even the Ladies' Home Journal advises girls not to marry a man who does not use the weed in a smoky form. That paper rightly contends that the non-user is likely to get irritated after dinner, whereas a smoker would be quiet and behave himself, soothed by the balm of a fragrant Havana. To a girl in love a smoker is more desirable because he writes a better love letter, which is more efficient than star gazing."

In the matter of density of population Paris and Berlin lead all the European cities.

Chemist's Future City

"Coal heats our homes and offices, drives our machines—and also covers the city with the foulest soot and grime. But in the future city, and the beautiful suburbs all around, the rumbling, clattering coal truck will be replaced by a modest unobtrusive wire running underground. Through this wire will pass from some huge central dynamo plant, an electric current—power. This power will heat our homes, light our homes, clean our homes, cook our food, black our boots, carry us upstairs, slave for us in a hundred ways. Every machine in the city will be run by the same tamed giant. In this city today there is a law that no man may keep hogs in his back yard or in his house. In the years before us, the same law will apply to coal, which is worse than forty hogs. And the cities of the future will have not so much as a wreath of smoke between them and the heavens."

"I spoke of cooking food. What of food itself? Meat we have already covered. But what of fruits and vegetables? 'I agree,' you may say, 'to artificial meat. The idea of tearing hogs to pieces, after all, isn't nice. But peaches and lettuce made by machine are somewhat more than I can bear.' Very good. Have 'em made by manure and mud, if that process seems more dainty. The point I want to make is, that you can have 'em cheap."

"The science of market gardening has only just begun, but, even in these first few years, the chemists in this line have shown us hints of astounding possibilities. And in the famous gardens that circle the city of Paris, the amount of fruits and vegetables, green vegetables, produced on a small three-acre plot outdoors straight through the winter months (150,000 heads of lettuce, for example, on one three-acre plot from Christmas to the first of June) gives you some little hint of what the future has in store."

"Crude as yet, and the produce at fancy prices still, because transportation is slow, the gardens must keep close to Paris, and there the rents are high. But, give by the means I have mentioned, swift and cheap communication between the city and the country for hundreds of miles around, and give the horticultural chemists fifty years more to find what can really be done with artificial earth, earth made by machinery—and there is left not the shadow of a doubt that the future people of cities, whether they live in town or in some beautiful suburb a hundred miles away, will have fruits and fresh green vegetables, at prices next to nothing, winter and summer alike."

"So much for my dream," concluded the chemist. Everybody's Magazine for July.

Still Hub of Universe

The center of population of the continental United States, which at the time of the first census was twenty-three miles east of Baltimore, has been traveling westward with each decade. In 1900 it was located near Columbus, Indiana, about forty miles south of Indianapolis. In 1890 it was twenty-six miles farther west, and the two previous decades it kept rather near to Cincinnati. With each decade it has moved a little farther west, but has continued to keep very close to the thirty-ninth parallel, the latitude approximately of Baltimore and Cincinnati.

With the development and spread of population in the west the wonder is that the center of population keeps so disproportionately far to the east of the center of area. It now stops at about one-fourth of the entire distance from coast to coast.

The present census will doubtless carry it a little farther west, and perhaps a little south, because of the new population in Oklahoma. Other western states have made large additions to their populations, but they have lost much by migration to Canada and latterly to Mexico.

It is not likely, therefore, that the center of population will move out of Indiana, or indeed, get very far from its last stopping place.

"Intensive cultivation," so called, has reached its highest state of perfection in the market gardens lying about Paris, where land rents runs to $250 an acre or more a year, and four crops are taken from the soil between February and November.

It will be a long time before Governor Marshall hears the last echo from his assertion that Roosevelt forced the nomination of Taft with the assurance in his mind that he would prove such a failure that the Republican party would call for Roosevelt in 1912. In the estimation of people in general the declaration stamps Marshall as a small-fry politician and demagogue—New Castle Courier.

But can't the Governor deny that he said it if he finds it is going to hurt? That's the way Democratic candidates sometimes do—Connersville News.

J. Kirby Risk, Democratic leader of Lafayette, and former Democratic chairman in the Tenth Indiana District, is outspoken concerning Roosevelt and the Democratic prospects should the Republicans nominate the former president to head the national ticket in 1912. Mr. Risk is quoted as saying: "I do not think that Roosevelt can be beaten if he is nominated. I do not know of any man the Democrats could nominate who could defeat him." Mr. Risk is just a bit more honest and outspoken than the average Democrat. There is no question but what the Lafayette statesman and politician has the situation sized up correctly. A vast majority of the American people look at the situation in exactly the same light. The demand for Theodore Roosevelt's nomination in 1912 will be irresistible. His election will follow by acclamation—Columbus Republican.

The total imports for the first nine months under the Payne-Aldrich tariff law ending April 30, were $1,205,776,188. Of this vast amount of imports 49.9 per cent, or almost half, were free from duty. The total imports under the present tariff law for the nine months ending April 30, were greater than the imports for the same nine months under the McKinley bill, or the Wilson bill, or the Dingley bill. The custom receipt under the present tariff law for the nine months given were greater than the receipts under the McKinley, Wilson or Dingley bill. Except the McKinley bill and the Wilson bill the average per cent, of duties under the present law were the lowest collected for the last twenty years, while the total collected was the highest, because of the greater amount of imports. This, it would seem, proves by practical demonstration that the tariff revision in the Payne-Aldrich bill has been a revision downward and that the enemies of the bill have been woefully mistaken as to its effects.

LONG DROUGHT IS PROPHESED

Heavy Dew in Early Morning is Given as Reason For Belief That Rain Will be Absent.

UNCOMMON IN THIS DISTRICT

There was a heavy honey-dew Monday morning, and this has led the weather prophets to declare that a long drought may be looked for. It is said that honey-dews only comes in seasons of extreme dryness at a time when the natural food supply bees has been curtailed by lack of a proper amount of rainfall, says the Columbus Herald.

There are but few of the present generation who ever saw honey-dew. This freak of nature is seldom seen in this latitude and of the late years not nearly as often as in the pioneer days.

In mountainous countries where there is timber and the wild bees abound honey dews are frequent. It is food for them and on mornings when the honey-dew appears millions of bees can be seen on the leaves and other vegetation feeding on the saccharine dew.

The trees and clover fields here were stiff and sticky with honey-dew Monday morning. County Treasurer Henry Roupp discovered it while walking through a clover field on his farm, and it was noticed by many others.

What Our Neighbors Are Talking About

DELICATE OPERATION.

(Milroy Press.)

Drs. Hougland and Hume were called to Richland township Sunday to assist Dr. Metcalf in an operation on the infant son of W. T. Moore and wife. The child was born with an extra finger on each hand and these were removed. The superfluous member protruded from the outer part of the hand at the knuckle joint of the small finger. One was perfectly developed with nail, the other was not quite so well developed.

The child weighed 12 pounds and is bright and active and doing fine.

FACING A WATER FAMINE.

(New Castle Courier.)

The city of New Castle is face to face with the most serious water famine in its history. Should a fire of some proportion break out, the water supply would not last an hour. This is no idle dream. It is treatment based on facts supplied at the waterworks and verified by the committee of the city council having charge of that department.

Complaints were filed from all quarters of the city. These had no effect and the water pressure was reduced to fifty pounds. Southside residents were hardly able to get enough water to cook with, to sprinkle lawns or to get drinking water. What they secured was greatly discolored and rendered unfit for domestic use. According to one statement there was no pressure at all on the Southside most of the day.

THE LETTER "B" ON OATS.

(Indianapolis News.)

The appearance of a legible B on the oat blades in Indiana has alarmed the superstitious. The crop, thanks to abundant rains, is coming on finely, but the cryptograph causes uneasiness. To the oldest inhabitants it signifies calamity. Of many baleful reports we quote the following from Muncie:

"Among the many farmers in Delaware county who have noticed the letter B on oat leaves is Ray Lambert, of near Gaston. He has been showing many leaves of oats with the strange sign on them. Nearly all the leaves in some fields are so marked. Old residents say that it is an ill omen; that in 1860, just before the outbreak of the civil war, a similar sign was upon the oats, and that the letter presaged the bloodshed that followed."

There are other conjectures about this sign, among them one relating to the return from Elba, which may be dismissed as unworthy of consideration, because the winter wheat in France in March, 1815, bore no cryptograph at all, the blades being perfectly smooth to the eye. The story of the B on the Indiana oat stalks presents no problem to us. There is no such letter to be seen, we feel sure. The whole thing is the shrewd advertising device of a political manager. Indiana has many oat fields. It is, in fact, one vast farm. When B's have been reported everywhere, on Duck, Mud and Pipe creeks, as well as in the valleys of the Wabash and the White, and everybody is guessing what the cabalistic letter means, the ultimate and conclusive answer will be announced just before election day: "B means Beveridge, the grand young man." Our advice to Thomas Taggart is to find K on the cornstalks.

HERE'S A CHICKEN STORY.

(Columbus Republican.)

Since the hatching season opened for spring chickens in Bartholomew county there has been more or less rivalry as to the number hatched among certain of the chicken raisers of the county, and as a result there have been some big hatchings reported, but now comes Lew Thompson of East Columbus, who reports nineteen chickens hatched from a setting of fifteen eggs, which puts all other reports away to the bad. Mr. Thompson says he set one of his hens on fifteen eggs and was surprised and in fact very much amazed to find that when the hen came off the nest with her brood, there were nineteen chickens. The only explanation Mr. Thompson has of this apparently impossible feat is that other hens must have laid four additional eggs in the nest after he set the hen with fifteen eggs. At any rate, when the hen came off her nest there was not an unhatched egg in the nest, so, granting that the hen did not receive four additional eggs from other hens that laid in the nest, she did a rattling good job at hatching anyway.

AMUSEMENTS

Mr. Jack Stalling of Indianapolis has been engaged to play traps at the Star-Grand.

The Vaudet will show a good film tonight in the subject, "The Dispatch Bearer," a drama, which is pronounced successful. It tells an interesting story of days gone by when slow methods were used to bear news. The dramatic action is excellent and the story as a whole is said to be far above the ordinary. A new illustrated song will be sung.

"The New Boss of Bar X Ranch" is the title of the film which will be shown at the Palace theater tonight. It is a Lubin picture, which it is said tells a rare and interesting story. The scenes of the pictures are laid in the far west and are novel and picturesque. Miss Iva Brown will sing a new illustrated song.

The Star Grand offers an Edison drama tonight entitled "The Piece of Lace." In this picture, the fourth of the elaborate productions with Mlle. Pajar Morin in the stellar role. Mr. Townsend has provided the wonderful artiste with a tense little drama, which comes very near to running the gamut of human emotions and in which she portrays a role not only powerful but sympathetic. The inevitable triangle in this case is superseded by a struggle in which four people are concerned, and a charming young French girl (Mlle. Morin) becomes the victim of a chain of circumstances which only her love and courage enables her to triumph over. Earl Robertson will sing "Baby Face."

A Pennsylvanian has applied the vacuum principle to a street cleaning wagon, powerful enough to pick up pieces of rubbish equal in size and weight to halves of bricks.

SURPRISED.

The friends of Jas. C. These friends, with their wives, had made a complete surprise on Mr. Gregg, and he was too dazed for a few minutes to respond to the congratulations heaped upon him. Refreshments were served and vocal and instrumental music helped make the occasion a pleasant one.

TRICKSTERS TROUBLED

Democratic Party Betrayers Fall in Sordid Quest For Tainted Money.

[Special Correspondence.]

Indianapolis, June 22.—When the Indiana Democratic party organization defied the expressed will of the people of Indiana and permitted the brewers to write into the Democratic state platform a plank demanding the destruction of the local option law which is now being given a trial in Indiana, there was a general feeling that the Democratic committee was selling its party. There was a feeling that in return for betraying the people the committee expected to receive brewery money to be used in the Indiana campaign of 1910.

Whatever the motive, and whatever the inducement, the deal was made, the people were betrayed, and the brewers used the Democratic platform to set out their own peculiar ideas of legislation.

Now comes the sequel. The brewers, so it is said, refuse to give of their funds for the success of the Democratic state and congressional candidates. They were interested in the Democratic state platform and in its making. But they are not interested in electing Democrats to state offices, or to congress. The brewers are hot after the legislature, but they say they do not care a whoop for Governor Marshall's political future, or for his presidential boom. They say they spent $65,000 in Marshall's campaign in 1908, and expended $81,000 to make a Democratic legislature. They have no complaint to make against Governor Marshall on the score that he has tried in any way to force brewers or liquor men to obey the laws. While they acknowledge Marshall carried out his part of the 1908 deal, they declare he is doing only what he was elected to do. When he closes his eyes and does nothing, he is simply carrying out his part of a campaign agreement, according to the brewers.

Having no interest in the Democratic party for Marshall's sake, and being concerned only in the making of a Democratic legislature, the brewers have turned down Stokes Jackson and the Democratic state central committee, and have refused to heed the pleadings of Tom Brooley, Bill Vollmer, Fred France and the rest of the brewery dependents who are running for state offices on the Democratic state ticket.

If the Democrats have that costly press bureau and the other fixings, it is said, the candidates will have to pay for them, unless the brewers relent. And until the brewers do relent, there will be woe in the Democratic camp.

Liver since Steve Fleming double-crossed Tom Taggart and swung Allen county and parts of St. Joseph and Vanderburg counties in favor of the Marshall-Bryan-Kern scheme of senatorial indorsement at the state convention, there has been war in the brewery camp.

Crawford Fairbanks has drawn out and refuses to give up any more money for the brewery campaign. Tom Taggart is not of the least help to Fleming in inducing "Craw" to donate further. Other brewers are joining Crawford Fairbanks outside the Fleming organization, and the bullying statesman from Fort Wayne is all at sea, and as mad as a wet hen.

Just now Fleming is puzzled extremely and sore by reason of the fact that Democrats in many counties are nominating anti-brewery candidates for the legislature, and are passing resolutions upholding the local option law which Fleming's state platform proposes to destroy.

Fleming cannot understand why the Democratic resolutions committee in Boone county, headed by Sam Ralston, Taggart lieutenant, should write resolutions indorsing the county option law, and nominate a man pledged to maintain that statute. Fleming cannot see why John W. Kern doesn't step in and prevent such revolutionary action in counties, like Wells, Bartholomew and others.

The revolt against the brewers has split the Democratic party in Indiana beyond repair. It is largely to the credit of the rank and file of Democrats that this is true.

There is small sympathy for Democratic managers who go to the brewers begging for campaign funds. There is little sorrow among the mass of voters when the betrayers of the Democratic party fall in their sordid quest for tainted money. The tricksters who traded the Democratic party to the brewers are in a peck of trouble just now, trying to deliver the goods. It is either deliver their party or fight their own political battles.

The whole situation, barring the bold and honest action of rural Democrats in justified revolt, is disgracefully and scandalously ridiculous.

TOLL OF DEATH IN COAL MINES

Statistics Covering Casualties
In Twenty-Five Years.

THE MORTALITY IN ILLINOIS

In the Quarter of a Century in Which Records Have Been Kept Nearly Twenty-Five Hundred Miners Have Been Killed in Illinois and More Than Eleven Thousand Injured, Not Including Cherry Disaster.

Springfield, Ill., June 22.—During the last twenty-five years excellent records of coal-mine accidents have been kept by the well-organized bureau of labor statistics of Illinois, of which David Ross is the present secretary. The statistics are collected for the fiscal years ending June 30. The total number of deaths and injuries during the twenty-five years ending June 30, 1909, the accidents and their causes, have been as follows:

Cause.	Killed.	Injured.
Gas and dust explosions...	153	191
Powder explosions and
windy shots .....	298	541
Falls of roof and coal .....	1,310	6,438
Miscellaneous .....	732	4,399
	2,493	11,569

Of the total of 14,062 accidents 7,748, or nearly 55 per cent, were due to falls of roof and coal.

The year 1909 was, in the number of accidents, the worst in the history of the state, and the figures as given do not include those for the fire at the Cherry mine, which occurred on Nov. 13. This disaster, which, according to the unofficial reports, caused the death of 393 men, will be included in the statistics for 1910. The fatalities at this one mine fire nearly equalled the total deaths from all causes in the coal mines of Illinois for the two fiscal years 1908 and 1909.

The total number of accidents in the Illinois coal mines for the fiscal year 1909 was 1,167, of which 213 were fatal and 894 nonfatal. The number of fatal accidents exceeded by fourteen the previous high record of 199 in 1905. Forty per cent of the fatal and nearly 50 per cent of the nonfatal accidents were due to falls of roof and coal, and 19 per cent of the fatal and 3 per cent of the nonfatal accidents were caused by explosions of gas and dust. The production of coal in Illinois in the fiscal year 1909, according to Mr. Ross's report, was 49,163,710 short tons, which indicates an output of 230,800 tons for each life lost. The death rate per thousand was 2.93. Corresponding figures for 1908 were 269,248 tons and 2.58 deaths per thousand. The most serious accident included in the statistics for 1909 was an explosion at Ziegler, in which, it is reported, twenty-four men were killed.

BLACK HAND THREATS DULY CARRIED OUT

Little Son of a New York Physician Kidnaped.

New York, June 22.—Michael, the three-year-old son of Dr. Mariano Scimeca, was playing on the third floor of the apartment house at 2 Prince street, about 4 o'clock last evening with half a dozen youngsters who live in the building. An Italian, the children said, who was big, with great whiskers, came up the stairs and patted Michael on the cheek.

"Come with me," the big man said to Michael, "and I will buy you candy." The little Scimeca put his hand in the big man's hand and the children saw them go down the stairs and out into the street together. That is the last anybody has seen of them.

Dr. Scimeca notified the police, who told him that his son had been, without doubt, kidnaped. Had he received any black hand letters? The doctor hesitated. Yes, he had received four letters in the past year. The persons who wrote them signed themselves The Black Hand and demanded $1,000 or they would take Michael, his son, and kill him. Dr. Scimeca has been six years in this country and had a large practice among the Italians of the quarter around Prince street.

Spectacular Fire Attacks New York Water Front.

New York, June 22.—A fire that called out most of the land apparatus in Brooklyn and three fireboats swept through the plant of the Croos, Austin & Ireland Lumber company, Williamsburg, and along Newton creek so quickly that the entire plant, one of the largest here, was almost completely destroyed.

The flames jumped across the creek and then communicated to a number of vessels tied up in the vicinity before the fireboats got to work. A barkentine loaded with yellow pine, and two barges were destroyed. The loss including the lumber plant and the boats and their contents destroyed, was estimated at upward of $1,000,000.

Brutal Burglars Get $300.

Indianapolis, June 22.—After beating Joshua Hawk, living eight miles east on the Shelbyville road, two thieves who broke into the Hawk home last night tied the wife of their victim to the bedpost and ransacked the house. More than $300 in money was taken by the robbers, who made their escape.

Zemo, the clean, external treatment has solved this difficulty by drawing the germs to the surface of the skin and destroying the germ life that causes the disease. The whole method of treatment and cure by ZEMO is explained in an interesting book on the subject issued by the makers of ZEMO. It tells how to cure yourself at home of Eczema, Blackheads, Pimples, Dandruff, and all diseases of the skin and scalp. Call at F. E. Wolcott's Drug Store for Booklet and learn more about this clean, simple remedy that is now recognized the standard treatment for all diseases of the skin and scalp.

CONCERT WAS HUGE SUCCESS

Gross Receipts From Headlee Benefit
Entertainment Last Night
Amounted to $165.

IMMENSE CROWD TURNED OUT

All of Musical Talent In City Joined In Making Concert Enjoyable.

To say that the benefit concert given in the Main Street Christian church last night for Mrs. W. O. Headlee was a success, would be putting it mildly. The gross receipts amounted to one hundred and sixty-five dollars. The expense of the concert were very small and most of that sum will be given to Mrs. Headlee. All of that amount which was not cleared on the concert as many donations were made by people who did not care to attend.

An immense crowd which more than filled the main auditorium of the big church and spread into the Sunday school room, greeted the many local musicians who were willing to use their talent for a good cause. The first number on the program, sung by a chorus consisting of Miss Frankie Clark, Mrs. T. A. Craig, Mrs. Jesse Pugh, Miss Norma Smith, Miss Martha Hogsett, B. F. Miller, T. A. Craig, F. R. McClannahan, E.

B. Thomas and Jesse Pugh was a fitting start for the entertainment which followed.

B. F. Miller was forced to respond to an encore to his tenor solo and was loudly applauded at his second attempt. Horold McClannahan, who was on the program for two piano solos, was also forced to render another piece before the audience was content. Miss Hazel Cox sang three solos and exhibited a voice rare for its sweetness and ability to reach high notes.

Jesse Pugh, who is always a favorite with any Rushville audience, made a decided impression with two solos. He was loudly applauded and responded with a recitation which had a rather startling climax, in that it was unexpected. Miss Martha Hogsett won the audience after about three notes to the first solo on the piano. She also was compelled to play again as the crowd would not be satisfied otherwise. B. F. Miller and Jesse Pugh furnished some amusement with their duet which was a difficult number from an oratorio.

Miss Norma Smith was the only one on the program who gave two encores, but she could not refuse as the appreciation of the audience was so forceful and insistent. She recited "That Old Sweetheart of Mine" with her own accomplishment on the piano. Miss Hazel Lytle sang two numbers and was forced to give an encore. Miss Olive Buell rendered a very pleasing piano solo and the concert was closed with a selection, which was much appreciated by the Glee club under the direction of T. A. Craig. The members of the club were: The Misses Hazel Cox, Ruby Norris, Norma Smith, Martha Hogsett, Frankie Clark, Nancy Hogsett, Georgia Wyatt and Mrs. Jesse Pugh, Mrs. T. A. Craig and Mrs. Derby Green.

WOULD MAKE AN IDEAL CITY PARK

Property Owned by City Might be Beautified and Turned Into Pleasure Resort.

CONDITIONS ALMOST PERFECT

At Small Expense Flower Beds,
Walks, Drives and Rustic
Benches Could be Installed.

That the condition of the city park is a blight on the fair name of Rushville, there is no doubt. That it could be improved at a small expense and be made an ideal place for pleasure seekers, there is no doubt. More benches through the place, artistic drives and walks arranged over the plot of ground and flower beds placed here and there would make the park one which any city of twice the size of Rushville could be proud.

The Rush County Chautauqua association has taken some steps in that direction and has beautified the city property to some extent. They built rustic bridges over the stream which passes through the ground and to a degree helped the movement alone. But much remains to be done.

A few flower beds arranged over the ground would make the place beautiful and the inviting shade of the large trees there would make what has been a cow pasture and almost wilderness an attractive resort. A few improvements at a small cost, would no doubt help Rushville in that its residents could have a public place where they could go for a cool and quiet hour on days of rest, and not be compelled to resort to the stone curbing around the court house yard.

The location of the city property is almost ideal. It is away from the business district and is large enough to make a city park, perfect in every detail. The space is large enough, the scenery is beautiful, the trees are not too numerous, a stream runs through the ground so that rustic bridges may be constructed and a small pond or miniature lake could easily be made. A luxuriant growth of grass is always to be found there during the summer months.

Another feature might be considered. The property is lying idle and is practically useless. No one derives any benefit from it with the exception of a few people who pasture their stock there and the Chautauqua association for the purpose of holding the annual assembly. In other words, the ground is of no benefit to anyone and is practically wasted. Better that it be disposed of than that it should lay idle.

Improvements upon improvements have been mentioned and there are scarcely any new ones to be considered. Already a few electric lights are to be found there, but more might be installed so that the park could be well lighted at night. And with the building of bridges and seats, flower beds, walks and drives, the place could be made a veritable summer resort.

Think it over!

MURDERED BY PLANT OFFHAUL

Thousands of Fish Meet Death in Big Blue River From Refuse of Strawboard.

TURNED IN AT CARTHAGE

Farmers Object to Terrible Order and Sportsmen up in Arms at Fish Onslaught.

It's the same old story, which comes as regularly as the summer rolls around, that the Carthage strawboard plant has turned the off-haul from the plant into Big Blue and killed all of the fish. The killing of the fish is not the only objectionable feature of the practice. The odor of the material turned into the stream is nearly unbearable and besides is decidedly unhealthy. The residents of Rush and Shelby counties living along the stream are up in arms about what they think is gross injustice.

The refuse from the plant was turned into the stream Saturday night and it is just now getting in its deadly work. Lying out along the bank and on the surface of the water are thousands of fish which met death from the off-haul. It acts as a deadly poison to the fish, killing them by the hundreds. The practice has been a common one for several years and just as often as it is done, so often do the people in the vicinity of the river complain, generally without noticeable results.

A few years ago a test case was tried in which the company finally won out. The case was decided in favor of the plaintiffs, but the decision given in the circuit court was reversed by the supreme court, where it was taken on an appeal by the company. The carnage this year is greater than it has been for several years past.

Early Sunday morning residents of Morristown and Freeport saw hundreds of dead fish floating down the stream. More than two hundred fish ranging in size from three feet in length to the tiny minnow can be seen at the dam near Freeport. Many times this number have floated on down the stream. Residents of that place who live along the banks of the river say that the stench is almost unbearable and one man even went so far as to say that if conditions did not improve that he would have to move out.

At Morristown several persons have made complaints to the State board of health and to the state fish and game commissioner, but as yet nothing had made its appearance in the way of relief. It is no doubt injustice to the farmers and taxpayers of the two counties.

The latest census of Japan shows that the population in 1908 numbered 49,581,928. In 1898 the total was 43,763,855. There has thus been an increase in the decade of close on 6,000,000.

It is on record that a mass of gold weighing fifty pounds was taken from a Bolivian mine in former times by Spaniards.

More serious charges are also made in the complaint.
